

Dr. Wei Ha joins the UNICEF Tanzania as a Policy Analysis Specialist in 2012. Wei has worked with UNICEF Zimbabwe and ESARO in similar functions. Before that, he was a policy specialist at the Human Development Report Office of UNDP and a consultant at the Development Economics Research Group at World Bank. Wei has published more than 20 articles, book chapters and opinion pieces on a wide- range of topics. A Chinese national, Wei received his dual BA in economics and political science and MA in education economics from Peking University and his PhD in Public Policy from Harvard University.

